

The image displays a 7x10 grid of colored rectangles, each representing a data point in a heatmap. The colors range from dark blue to dark red, with a color scale indicated by a vertical bar on the right side of the grid. The grid shows a pattern of varying intensities across the rows and columns.

0

-1